Dear Dr. Intelisano:

Thank you for your letter of Mar. 23rd to the Institute and Robert Monroe.

We found your observations of particular interest and feel that the readers of THE EXPLORER would benefit from reading them. It would be of some help to them we feel in removing their fear of the unknown which surrounds this subject and their experiences.

Could we have your permission to reprint excerpts from your letter in the next issue of THE EXPLORER? We are enclosing a copy of the last issue to illustrate the graphics context in which it would appear.

Thank you for your interest in the Institute.

Sincerely,

Tracy D. Connors

Dear Mr. Monroe,

A patient of mine gave me your book entitled, Journeys Out of The Body, to read.

I want to congratulate you on your "guts" in finally exposing this built-in firmware of man's Master computer or soul.

My first experiences with OOBE, etc., was at age 29, under hypnosis, whereby my "astral" self was seperated. I saw my physical self sitting in the chair, the room and the four people therein. I then began falling away from the scene into an indigo colored world. My "astral" body was then standing in a grassed valley- my body was transparent and therefore I actually was standing through the grass or imtermingled with it. My range of vision was 360° and then a spirit guide appeared to my right by the name of Frank. He stated "we are going on a journey"; and the next thing I knew I realized we were in the universe. He then escorted me to a transluscent temple with three spiraled towers and three doorways. He stated , "we are to enter", which we did momentarily if I may use this word.

Later in researching out this phenomenon, I found in Theosophical literature that this temple is called the "Temple of Wisdom" an exact replica of this temple was found in a book entitled, Space, Time and Self by E. Norman Pearson.

I again descended to the lower planes and had some minor experiences showing man's inhumanity to man -- past events occurring in the '50's in reference to the capturing of Tibetan monks by Chinese communist soldiers, etc. I then descended back into my physical.

Later that same day I was again hypnotized and recalled a past life which was tapped. I found that I had been incarnated in 364A.D., in a man called Titius who led the III Parthican legion of Rome against the Persian army at the battle of the Dardanells. I described the battle scenes with vivid details, re: pain, heat of the sun,etc. About a month later I researched this out at the local library and found that the III Parthican legion was in fact almost totally destroyed at this battle @ 364-365 A.D.! I had never read about this prior to this event and was shocked to say the least. The real mind-blower occurred after writing to the Turkish embassy for photographs of the Dardenells. There it was, the exact description of the battle scene to every detail including the flat mountain range with the 45° cut-off at the passageway we had to take to secure entrance to the sea. Conclusive evidence for me.

Wishing to experience OOBE on my own, I felt I must begin an intensive course in Yoga, which I did. One evening while in meditation with my eyes closed and in a semi-conscious state although quite aware, a beam of light descended and with it a pulsating music containing drums, cymbals and a flute. The music was coordinated with the pulsating light. My lower self then followed the singular beam upward until it divided in two and then my entire being was engulfed in light as I stood "free" in the universe. In front of me appeared a veil (curtain), which was drawn aside and in that instant I saw before me the evolution of our solar system and planet; the wars that have been and the great war to probably come with the very strong impression of massive nuclear anhilation.

This upset me to say the least and I couldn't understand, why me? However several good things came of this, I now knew I was eternal, and the hidden symbolism of the various world scriptures now unfolded--evolutionary law, reincarnation, karma, etc., even symbolic or abstract interpretation of certain sciences. Wild to say the least. Of course this has led me into energy research (pyramids, Kirlin photography,etc.)

Judging from what you have thus far read I guess you realize this wasn't all OOBE, somewhere I feel there was a tapping of the Buddhic or intuitional Self. I view OOBE as journeys into the astral and mental worlds; but of course this too could be wrong.

Realizing we are our brother's keeper, I have enclosed a duplicate of the Enquirer Newspaper article, on the misuse of these spiritual forces within man for your review. I am interested in your comments because of your foresight. It appears as though man is following a similar path, as he did on Atlantis; which is also another life I have recall on--- specifically, King Oneaess, 5th Commonwealth of Posidenus. (I know that must really sound wierd).

As a personal note, I really enjoyed reading your book. It brought back the courage I lost to attempt OOBE due to fear. Success came this morning (3-23-78) at three A.M. The vibrations came in after descending from the dream state along with the three dimensional point oscillating with the vibrations. I attempted to move my jaw and right arm, but without success, realizing I was now in the "state". It was a beautiful feeling, I attempted to control the vibrations and set the glowing point (sparkles) inward to the head. Unfortunately a noise in the kitchen broke my concentration just as a castle rooftop was coming into view. That really irritated me but you better believe I'll be attempting this every night until I'm successful. Thanks again!

I hate to combine business with such a personal letter, however I'd like to know if you give lectures on your experiences? I'm co-director and chairman for the lecture series for thr North Jersey Metaphysical Center in Wayne, N.J. We have guest speakers on alternate Saturday's some of whom I'm sure you must know. In any case I'd consider it an honor if it were at all possible for you to speak to our group. If you do accept fees and a schedule can be worked out later. I hope to hear from you shortly either on a personal note or in reference to the possible speaking engagement. Even better than that I hope to meet you on some of our OOBE journeys. Thanks for your strength and guidance.
